Hi Lorraine,

I am finally getting to the email I have intended to send since our conversation. I have not forgotten. There was an article in the September/October 2005 issue of Women with Vision that caught my interest. The article was 'Follow That Dream' featuring Dean Vegas. This was my second summer volunteering at the Elvis Festival. One of the tasks I had this year was at the side door of the Eddie Bush Arena making sure that the artists located the change room, and made it back to the downtown stage. The Elvis festival took on a whole new meaning for me as I had the opportunity to meet some of the artists, one of whom was Dean Vegas. Hence your magazine's article really interested me. He introduced himself to me and my partner and stopped for a chat. What a nice man! I was amazed that he would take the time to stop and chat with us. Apart from being handsome, he was a genuine person. Although the conversation was short, he certainly made an impression. Also, I enjoyed hearing his interview on the local radio station in Owen Sound. I caught myself saying, "Hey I met that guy." Hopefully, I will hear him next summer. Aside from that Lorraine, I continue to enjoy your magazine and always find the articles interesting. Keep at it. Hope all is well,

After spending countless hours commuting from Oakville to Toronto, I have recently left my law partnership in Toronto after 20 years to pursue a sole practitioner law practice in Oakville Ontario. I am new to the area and a friend mentioned your organization to me. Do you have any chapters in this area? I look forward to hearing from you.

Do you have a "Women with Vision" network in the Okanagan Valley, B.C.? If yes, who would the contact be, and if not, what are the requirements to start one here??

Sincerely,

Hello!

I just came across your website and am so glad to see you! I have a similar vision with the women of Greensboro in North Carolina. I own a tea blending business and have also started a women's Entrepreneur Group called "Hell on Heelz." We are working on a seminar for 2006 with the Grandover Resort. Would love to touch base with you and offer to write a magazine article for you sometime. I am a published writer for several trade journals on business and marketing.

Hope to hear from you!
